Blade is stuck to the lid of the food processor

Possible Solutions

Was the work bowl full?

There are several reasons that the blade can become stuck to the lid of the food processor, including over loading the bowl, using excessive force when processing, or food particles wedged between the blade and the lid.

CLICK HERE for more information on processing tips and possible causes.